I have a listbox that is populated with a list of Items and that is bound to a data source containing objects of type MyObject. The problem is that when I update the list of objects in the data source, and the list box updates, it only shows the last item in the list. I have looked at other posts on this, and from what I can see I am doing everything right. Here is the xaml code for the ListBox: 2d92ce491b
