Friday, November 17, 2014 The things that you carry The mundane everyday items you carry around with you can be worth carrying for a reason. They can be useful, help you stay connected to home, and connect you with fellow travelers. This list of items that you will want to carry with you on your travels. Some are absolutely necessary; for example, cell phones and debit cards, and others you can probably live without, but you can make the most of them while you do not have them. 1. Sunglasses –

As a hot, dusty country, you may need a pair of sunglasses on the road. Be sure to bring a variety to choose from. They are important because you will need them to protect your eyes from the sun, bugs, and being outside on a hot day. In addition, they are useful, especially in the beginning because they will hide the damage to your eyes. At the beginning, you will be going on a budget, and you will want to choose a pair that has good coverage for your nose and cheeks, but be sure to carry your pair with you at all times while you are out. 2. Bandana/Handkerchief – A bandana or handkerchief is a great thing to have in your bag and in your travel kit. You will want to carry it with you at all times because it can be handy to clean up spills, or if you have a cut and you need to stop, you will want to have something to do it with. Make sure that you bring some extra bandanas and handkerchiefs so you will be prepared. 3. Comfortable Shoes – You will be on your feet most of the time that you are out and about, so make sure that you do not wear shoes that are not comfortable for you. Be careful of the materials you wear on your feet; for example, some shoes, that feel comfortable in the city, are very uncomfortable on concrete floors or stone sidewalks. Look for shoes that do not have arch support, so you are comfortable. 4. Prescription/Ophthalmic Medicine – You will be out and about at all times, which means that you will be taking medication 3ef4e8ef8d
