The golf club is part of the Aberdeen & Grampian Golf Tour. History Prestwick Golf Club was established in 1872 and the first course was laid out by Willie Ferguson and Willie Park, two Scottish architects. It opened with a driving range and a caddy course. In 1906, a 15 hole layout called the Royal & Ancient Course was introduced. The clubhouse was originally built at the junction of the newly opened Aberdeen Western Railway and the Aboyne Road (later the A1) trunk road. The only road access to Prestwick was across the lands of the Royal Deeside Estate and through the railway tunnel to the west. The club pro, Eric Temple, bought the Deeside Estate in 1913, allowing the club to expand.
